Work duties

Antonio's main work duties have included front-end development using Typescript, HTML, REACT and GraphQL. Antonio has specifically been working with bug fixes but also with implementation of new features in Axis built-in web client.

Recommendation

Antonio is a driven, outgoing, talented problem solver and has developed a good basic knowledge of front-end development.

Antonio is easy to cooperate with and is well liked by colleagues and line managers; therefore, we give him our best recommendations.
